Alegre Design

Bearing the timeless look of classic modernism, Gnosi provides a clean and consistent appearance in any setting: classroom to cafeteria, auditorium to library, corporate training room to collaborative workspace. Gnosi's flowing lines and continuous curves were conceived by Marcelo Alegre of Alegre Design in Valencia, Spain. His inspiration for the design was the Danish modern sculptural fountain by Russell Secrest in the heart of Chicago's Loop District. Alegre was fascinated by the variety of shapes, the continuous lines, the flowing and organic geometry. The designer sought to create a shell chair with one stroke of the pen, mimicking the sense of continuity and simplicity that the fountain conveyed, and Gnosi was born.

Gnosi

Gnosi is pronounced “know-see” and is derived from an ancient Greek noun, gnosis, that defines knowledge or insight. The Gnosi collection is an incredibly adaptable solution, providing a visually cohesive answer for any facility, whether it’s commercial, educational, healthcare, hospitality, retail or almost any conceivable setting.

Multifaceted Design

Transform your space with Gnosi, a lightweight shell with incredible strength and durability. The polypropylene shell for the Gnosi collection is available in eight colors, from deep anthracite to playful yellow. Its frame finish options include chrome, black and white. Gnosi boasts seven base options from stackable 4-leg or sled versions to stools, task and cantilever options. The Gnosi shell can also be used in fixed seating applications with jury, swing-away and beam bases for a variety of environments.
